"The Land of Milk And Honey" by Salvador Dali

and centering us in the embrace of the Holy Spirit.*

Light of the world which guides us through life.*

Opening the Bible

We open the Bible to remind us that God speaks to us through the Holy Word.

Call to Worship

Erin Brown

Leader: The Spirit led Christ into the sparseness of the wilderness.

People: Where have you led us, O God? What will we find here?

Leader: Two years of this pandemic have been a wilderness for us.

People: What temptations have we experienced here? What do we learn about ourselves?

Leader: Jesus was tempted to ease his hunger by turning a stone into bread.

People: Are we tempted, too, to extract from the natural world for our own comfort?

Leader: After forty days, Jesus emerged from the wilderness, ready for what lay ahead.

People: Are you preparing us for something, God? May we emerge from this season ready to follow you in faith.

Like many of this author's hymns, this text was written primarily for children but works equally well in reminding adults how Lent connects us with Christ's temptation in the wilderness and prepares us for Easter. The 16th-century English psalm tune provides sturdy support.

This text by a Presbyterian pastor in California expresses the conviction that being a good steward is an essential part of the Christian life, for self-giving is God's own nature. The tune is named for the village in Surrey where the arranger collected this tune in 1903.
